THE TESTIMONY IN STOKES' CASE CLOSED.

Trial of Taintor, the Defaulting Cashier.

LARGE RECEIPTS OF BULLION.

The Union Trust Co. and L. S. R. R. Difficulty Settled.

NEW YORK, October 27, 1873.

Negotiating N. Y. C. R. R. Bonds.

It is rumored that Wm. H. Vanderbilt, Jr., has sailed to Europe to negotiate $2,000,000 of the New York Central bonds still remaining out of the recent issue of $10,000,000.

A Loan Settled.

A settlement has been effected of the Union Trust Company's loan to the Lake Shore Railroad Company. The Receiver of the Trust Company has obtained permission of the Court to accept the Lake Shore Company's notes, secured by Commodore Vanderbilt with Harlem Railroad Company stock at ninety.

In regard to the muddle, Mr. Wesley, Receiver of the Trust Company, states, as within his own knowledge, that when Commodore Vanderbilt came into the Presidency of the Lake Shore Company, after the death of Horace F. Clark, he found this debt to the Trust Company amounting on the 24th inst. to the sum of $1,809,979.32, a debt of which he had previously known nothing, and in the contraction of which he had no personal share; that this loan was made by the Trust Company at 7 per cent. at a time when money was very cheap and lending at 4½@5 per cent., and that although Commodore Vanderbilt personally was not responsible for a dollar of it, he had, in order to take care of the Lake Shore interest on the one hand, and to help the Union Trust Company out of its difficulties on the other, put up his personal securities as collateral for the railroad company's notes, which are drawn in a new and very stringent form.

Trial of Stokes.

The testimony in the Stokes case was closed this morning. Mr. Tremain, for the defense, began his address to the jury.

Mr. Tremain went on to argue that all of Stokes' movements proved the absence of malice. His only firing two shots and throwing away his pistol with two loaded chambers, and his exclamation and call, "Doctor, there's a man shot," were dwelt upon as excluding the idea of premeditated design to kill. The counsel argued that Stokes had no motive to kill; but Fisk, who was jealous, had every reason for wanting Stokes out of the way.

At 5:15 o'clock, when Mr. Tremain had only got through the second general head of his speech, the Court adjourned, after a caution to the jury to refrain as yet from coming to conclusions.

Meeting of the Board of Missions of the P. E. Church.

The Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church met in annual session to-day. Among those present were Bishops Smith, of Kentucky, Chairman of the Board, Lee, of Iowa, Talbot, of Indiana, McCoskrey, of Michigan, and Bishop Tozer, of Africa.

Bishop Smith made an address, dwelling on the necessity existing for an increase of laborers in the Lord's vineyard.

The annual report of the Board showed a gratifying increase of work. The receipts for the past year were $173,254, and the expenditures $137,918. The appointment of a Bishop for Dakota, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Arizona and Wyoming was made a special order for to-morrow afternoon.

Trial of Taintor, the Defaulting Cashier.

The trial of Frank L. Taintor, Cashier of the wrecked Atlantic National Bank, has been commenced. Charles A. Meigs, United States Bank Examiner, testified to finding a deficit of $400,000 in Taintor's accounts, and to advising Taintor's arrest.

It is stated that the defence will be that the directors were fully aware and consented to Taintor's speculating with the funds of the bank.

The Alleged Wife Poisoning Case.

Mrs. Smith the woman who was poisoned by her servant girl at Patchogue, to-day requested a reporter to publish that she believes the charge against her husband to be entirely false, that she never will appear against him, and that she can account for the servant girl's statement on no other ground than that it is a blackmail operation.

A Test Case Decided.

The case of Asa B. Richardson versus H. Hathaway, of Oneida county, N. Y., by which the plaintiff sued to recover $2,500, was concluded to-day. Richardson made advances to Hathaway on a consignment of hops which the former shipped to Liverpool, but did not realize the amount of the advance. The verdict was in favor of Richardson for the full amount. The case is regarded as a test case.

Saratoga Bankruptcy Case.

In the bankruptcy matter of S. Leland and others, proprietors of the Grand Union Hotel at Saratoga, Judge Blatchford has decided that the first mortgage bondholders are entitled to be paid in full, in accordance with the terms of the bonds, and that the creditors holding collaterals as security for loans are entitled to be credited with them.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Embarrassed.

Collis P. Huntington, President of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, in regard to the reported embarrassment of the company, said it was likely that the coupons of its bonds falling due on the 1st of November would not be paid. Some of the construction and equipment paper was over-due, but not to a large amount.

Securities Held by the Creditors of George B. Grinnell & Co.

A full list of the securities held by the creditors of George B. Grinnell & Co. is published. They are mainly shares of the Lake Shore and Chicago & Northwestern, with a dash of the New York Central.

The Flow of Bullion.

Ten thousand pounds sterling were received at the Assay office to-day, making a total of £1,547,000 since October 6th.

CINCINNATI.

Movements of the Senate Transportation Committee.

CINCINNATI, October 27.—The United States Senate Transportation Committee to-day met the Committees of the Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce. Statistical reports of the commerce of Ohio river cities and towns were read, footing up $760,000,000 annually of commerce of Cincinnati, together with the rates of freight by rail and water compared, and the steamboat interest. In connection with the report, the joint Committee presented a recommendation to Congress to improve the navigable rivers, to construct a great water line with its own officers, and retain control of the same, and also expressed the opinion that railroad lines, however numerous, could never supplant the use of water courses as a means of meeting the entire commercial wants of the country.

This afternoon the Senate committee visited the suburbs. To-night they are in conference with the committees of the two boards.

YELLOW FEVER

Montgomery.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., October 27.—Nine cases of yellow fever have been reported for the past forty-eight hours.

Corpus Christi, Texas.

BROWNSVILLE, TEX., October 27.—One fatal case of fever having occurred at Corpus Christi, the authorities here have ordered a quarantine between that city and this place. United States cavalry have gone out to patrol the roads and prevent intercourse between here and Corpus Christi. The person who died at Corpus Christi had just arrived from Coumbus, where the fever is very bad. As the southern mails come by way of Corpus Christi, they will be interrupted.

Shreveport.

SHREVEPORT, October 27.—Interments yesterday: J. F. Whitman, Laura Chain, Beverley Harris (colored). To-day: Joseph Nathan, Eliza Hetter, Thomas McGill, Robert Workman, Mrs. Stone.

Memphis.

MEMPHIS, October 27.—Information from all available sources tends to confirm the opinion that the yellow jack is rapidly decreasing. The heavy rain of yesterday had no effect to increase the number of new cases, as was feared. On the contrary, there were fewer applications for nurses to-day than since the beginning of the plague. The Howard rooms were crowded with nurses waiting for applications, and at noon the Association began discharging them, as there is every assurance that the scourge is routed.

Mortuary report to 6 P. M.: Yellow fever, 18; other causes, 8.

ALBANY.

Trial of Phelps, the Defaulting Cashier of the State Treasury.

ALBANY, October 27.—The trial of Phelps, the defaulting cashier of the State Treasury, came up in the Police Court to-day. Treasurer Raines was placed on the stand. He identified Phelps' writing in a mass of telegraphic correspondence carried on between Phelps and Sherwin & Co., his New York brokers, the correspondence being couched in purposely ambiguous terms. The case was adjourned till to-morrow, for the production of the Treasury books in court.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

The Town of Ganistota, N. Y, Almost Laid in Ashes.

SYRACUSE, October 27.—A fire broke out in Canistota last night, which was quenched this morning after burning over six acres of territory, destroying three hotels, thirty-two dwellings, and between forty and fifty places of business. The total loss is estimated by insurance agents at $150,000, and the total insurance at $90,000. The fire was undoubtedly incendiary. The business portion of the town was all destroyed except the Beecher block. The citizens held a meeting to-night and passed resolutions inviting pecuniary aid of the charitable everywhere, and appointing Mr. D. H. Raisbacht, cashier of the Canistota Bank, to receive any contributions. A committee was also appointed to investigate the cause of such frequent fires.

The fire was first discovered shortly after midnight in a barn in the rear of the Beecher block and adjoining the Eagle Hotel, a wooden building on Centre street. It quickly communicated to the hotel and Spencer's manufactory of optical instruments, adjoining the Postoffice. A strong southerly wind prevailed, driving the fire north. The width of the track of the fire was about half a block. The flames swept everything up to the canal. They then leaped over the canal, and, traveling one block on the other side, made the destruction complete. The stores destroyed were mostly wooden, with occasional brick buildings interspersed. An engine sent from Oneida and the Canistota engine played on the fire, but the violence of the gale, in spite of a drenching rain, neutralized all their efforts. Finally, there being nothing more to burn in that direction, the fire was subdued.

Two hours before the discovery of this fire, a barn belonging to the Central Railroad, and used for storing hay, was burned, together with one hundred tons of hay and several cars. This was also the work of an incendiary. This is the third disastrous conflagration there in six months, involving an aggregate loss of over $300,000. The only hotel left standing is a temporary structure, erected on the site of the April fire. All the fires have doubtless been the work of incendiaries. The inhabitants contemplate the appointment of a vigilance committee to preserve what is left of the village.

ALMOST every family in the country have the materials for manufacturing pure cider vinegar, if they will only use them. Common dried apples are all you need to make the best cider vinegar. Soak your apples a few hours, washing and rubbing them occasionally, then take them out of the water and thoroughly strain the latter through a tight-woven cloth—put it into a jug, add half a pint of molasses to a gallon of liquor, and a piece of brown paper, and set in the sun or by the fire, and in a few days your vinegar will be fit for use. Have two jugs, and use out of one while the other is working. No family need be destitute of good vinegar who will follow the above directions.

OIL INTELLIGENCE.

New Wells at Millerstown and Modoc—The Production of Modoc Belt.

A new well on the Barnhart farm, Millerstown, owned by Stoughton, McCandless & Duffy, of Butler, is doing about two hundred barrels. It is located within a short distance of the old Lambing well, on the same property, near the German Reformed Church at Irons City.

A new well on the Sutton farm, Modoc, struck the sand to-day, when the oil gushed forth with a rush. It is likely to produce largely for some days, as most others in that section have done at the outset. The owners are Karns, Hall & Kellisin.

The production of the Modoc belt for the week ending Friday, October 24, was as follows. The report includes those wells which were torpedoed on the day previous:

PRODUCTION OF MODOC BELT.

Troutman Farm	716
McClung Farm	75
Harper Farm	1387
Starr Farm	950
Sutton Farm	775
Morrow Farm	365
Jenkins Farm and vicinity	258
Gruber Farm	70
John Starr Farm	360
McConnell Farm	360
Ralston Farm	340

By the above it will be perceived that the new strikes and torpedoing have so far failed to increase the production of this belt. In fact the daily yield is now only a little over half of its highest point about a month ago.

Hoover well No. 1, on the McClelland farm, south of Modoc, caught fire at eleven o'clock on Saturday. The derrick, engine house sucker rods and tubing were destroyed, also two 250-barrel tanks, and nearly 100 barrels of oil. The tools were lost in the hole. The cause of the accident was the explosion of the gas tank.

—At Indianapolis, Ind., on Saturday morning an accident occured at the Morris street bridge over White River, by which a laborer named Jas. Quinn was instantly killed. A number of laborers were at work with a derrick, when something broke about it, and the entire machinery fell, catching Quinn, and crushing his skull in a terrible manner.

JOHN LOTUS, a laborer, was found dead at Hazelton, Mahoning county, on Tuesday last, from the effects of too much whisky and exposure.

Payments in Silver to be Resumed To-Day.

The Brunot Treaty with the Utes Acquiesced in.

WASHINGTON, October 27, 1873.

Conferences with the Comptroller of the Currency.

Ex-President Johnson had a consultation with the Comptroller of the Currency to-day, with reference to the affairs of the First National Bank, and ex Secretary McCulloch had a long conference on the banking system of Europe as compared with the system in this country.

Resumption of Silver Payments.

The Secretary of the Treasury will issue an order to commence payments of silver at New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and other leading cities where there are Assistant Treasurers or designated depositaries to-morrow. In no case will more than five dollars in silver be paid to one person, the balance of the check being payable in greenbacks.

Secretary Richardson hopes to keep up the payment of silver, expressing the opinion that he will be able to do so unless a run upon the Treasury be made and the silver taken out for the purpose of being hoarded. There is at present about half a million dollars in silver coin in the possession of the Government, which, it is thought, will last some weeks; but the work of coining will still be continued, though not more rapidly than heretofore. There is an abundance of silver bars in the country, and the capacity of the mints is sufficient for the coinage of about fifteen million dollars per annum in silver, without interfering with the other coinage. With the exception of that in California, there is but little silver coin in the country not owned by the Government. In order to prevent any rush for silver coin, the Secretary will, in his order directing the payment of that coin, positively forbid that more than five dollars be paid to one person, no matter what amount may be called for in the check.

The Ute Indians.

The Ute delegation had a final interview with the Commissioner of the Indian Bureau to-day, when the Brunot treaty was acquiesced in, and the Ute chiefs promised that the Utes now in New Mexico, some 500 or 600 in number, should be moved to the Los Pinos reservation in Colorado. The Utes were loth to consent to this arrangement, but the Commissioner assured them that if they did not move to Colorado, the Government would compel them to do so.

The Jay Cooke & Co. Bankruptcy Case.

Trial of Marshal Bazaine.

PARIS, October 27.—In the Bazaine trial to-day, the prosecution announced that it would not call for evidence as to events previous to the 28th of August. The President of the Court, however, at the request of the defence, allowed testimony to be given relative to the battle of Forbach.

General Montondon and other Generals of Division acknowledged that Bazaine ordered them to the assistance of Gen. Frossard, and variously explained their failure to carry out his orders.

Gen. Frossard testified that Bazaine's orders to the Generals of Division were distinct, and they were responsible for their non-execution.

At the opening of the sitting, M. Regnier was called as a witness, but he was not present. It is said that his arrest had been ordered because he wrote an insulting letter to the Duke D'Aumale, and he has fled to England.

Debate on the Address in Reply to the Governor General's Speech.

OTTAWA, ONT., October 27.—The debate on the address in reply to the speech was opened to-day in the House of Commons. Mr. MacKenzie moved an amendment declaring that the conduct of the Ministry with regard to the Pacific Railway is worthy of the severest censure.

Political circles are in a state of feverish excitement, both sides using the utmost efforts to make the first vote decisive. The approaching discussion is expected to be most acrimonious. The best opinions are that the Government will be sustained on the first vote by a small majority, but that after the first division the majority will increase.

It is now said that Riel will not be in his place. There will be two hundred and one members present when the House meets.

—Tom Allen and Ben Hogan are to engage in a prize fight to-day. The contest will come off at some point below St. Louis. Allen left the city on Sunday and Hogan on Monday. They will be picked up by an excursion boat as she goes down. Both are under bonds to keep the peace in Missouri. Governor Beveridge, of Illinois, has instructed the sheriffs of St. Clair and Madison counties, opposite St. Louis, to prevent the fight on Illinois soil, if possible, and it is probable that the battle will take place some distance from St. Louis. Both men are said to be in splendid condition.

MADDENED JEALOUSY.

A Husband Attempts to Take the Life of His Wife and then Attempts Suicide.

Yesterday morning about ten o'clock the residents of Fifth avenue, in the vicinity of the Court House, were startled by the cries of "Murder!" which were being shouted by a woman, who was leaning from the upper story of the tenement house, No. 156 Fifth avenue. Alderman Butler, who was near by, rushed up stairs, followed by Officer Grady. When they had got to the upper story they saw a man, who appeared to be greatly excited, attempt to pass them. The Magistrate ordered the officer to take the man in custody, which he did. The 'Squire then proceeded to the front room on the fourth floor of the tenement, the door of which he found barricaded. With a little assistance it was broken open, and inside standing near the floor, was the injured woman, whose name is Coyne, bleeding profusely from two wounds, one on the side of the head which had splintered the skull and the other in the throat. The bullet which had struck her head had glanced off and struck on the floor, but the other had entered her throat just back of the trachea and had passed upward and back, where it could not be reached with a probe. Great excitement was occasioned by the shooting, and a large crowd gathered around. Drs. McKelvey, Purviance and Gilmore, were soon upon the scene, and attended to the injured woman. She stated that her husband, Thomas Coyne, had done the shooting because he was jealous of her, and had accused her of being untrue to her marriage vows, which same she vehemently denied. She said that her husband and herself had always lived harmoniously, but lately he had become decidedly jealous of her and made divers threats. While the wounds of the woman were being dressed, officer Grady took Coyne to the lock-up. Here he stated that he was sorry he did not kill his wife; that she had proved untrue to him, and that he had tried to kill her and then kill himself; he had also two wounds on his person. This could hardly be believed, but it proved true. He had apparently shot himself, intending not to do him much damage. One wound was in the left forearm and the other on the left hip. Neither of the wounds are of a very serious character, and were dressed by a physician. Alderman Butler took the wife's information, charging Coyne with felonious assault and battery, and he was committed to jail to await the result of her injuries. The physicians can not as yet give an opinion as to whether the wounds of the woman will prove fatal.

At a late hour last evening Mrs. Coyne seemed no worse, and the bullet in her throat had not been found. She seemed very weak, and had nothing to say in regard to the events of the day. There are some hopes expressed of her recovery.

BREVITIES.

Paragraphic Pencilings of Passing Events.

....A lad named Nugent was crushed to death by the falling of slate Saturday afternoon in the coal mine of Shoemaker & Co., at Beaver Falls.

....Yesterday morning a frame house which was being raised on Forty-fourth street, fell with a crash and buried two horses. Nobody was hurt.

....Richard Ennis who, it is alleged, stole an overcoat from the office of Deputy Mayor Irwin some days ago was arrested last night by Officer Cupples.

....Dennis Haggerty was held to bail yesterday for trial in the sum of $300 each in two charges, selling liquor without license and keeping a disorderly house.

....James McAllister charges John Lowe and James Gallagher, before Alderman McMasters, with procuring forty-two dollars worth of board under false pretenses. A warrant was issued.

....Silas Balton, on Saturday, was trying to board a train at Derry, on the Pennsylvania railroad while it was in motion, missed his footing and fell on the track, one of his legs being crushed.

....The Water Committee met last night and decided to enter into a contract with Mr. Burton, the contractor for the improvement of Fifth avenue, for the erection of trestle work across Soho Run on which to lay the water pipe that supplies the East End. The amount of the contract is $800.

....Maggie Maitland, before Alderman McMasters, charges Thomas Murray with assault and battery and surety of the peace. She alleges that he broke the Sabbath day by pounding her unmercifully, and threatened to take her life if she said anything about it. A warrant was issued.

....On Saturday morning in Titusville, a lad named John Newton, aged fifteen years, picked up a loaded gun, and not thinking that it was loaded, playfully pointed it at his sister Ella's head, pulled the trigger, discharging the contents, the charge entering the girls head, killing her almost instantly.

....A series of religious meetings are being held at the First Presbyterian Church, on Thirteenth street, South Side. Rev. J. Murray, D. D., preached last night. This evening Rev. J. L. Simpson will officiate; on Wednesday evening, Rev. James Robinson; on Thursday evening, Rev. E. A. Brindley, and on Friday evening, Rev. H. Siveter will occupy the pulpit.

....Yesterday afternoon, about three o'clock, two young men named J. T. Tanner and J. McGaff, while driving along Federal street, Allegheny, knocked down and ran over a man named Henry Robinson, cutting his head and bruising him very severely. They drove on as if nothing had happened, but they were afterwards arrested and held in three hundred dollars bail for a hearing this afternoon.

....On yesterday morning Chief of Police Clark, of Allegheny, received a communication from Chief of Police Athy, of Memphis, soliciting aid for their police force, eight of whom have already died of the dread scourge, yellow fever, and fifteen of whom are lying sick out of a force of sixty men. He states the Howard Association is helpless to give them relief. The letter was read to the police force last evening and fifty three dollars was subscribed on the spot.

....A good advertisement in a widely-circulated newspaper, like the GAZETTE, is the best of all possible salesmen. It is a salesman who never sleeps, and is never weary; who goes after business early and late; who accosts the merchant in his shop, the scholar in his study, the lawyer in his office, the lady at her breakfast-table; who can be in thousands of places at once, and speak to thousands of people every morning, saying to each one the best thing in the best manner.

....On Saturday night Gallitzin, Cambria county, was the scene of a lively riot. The "Mollie Maguires" attacked seven Germans who had gone to take the place of the striking miners. So far as heard from, none of them were badly hurt. They also attacked an emigrant car which had been switched on to a siding, and broke the windows. In the car were seated several drovers, none of whom were hurt. A party of young men from Pittsburgh were stoned, and they fired in the direction from whence the stoning came. The "Mollies" returned the fire, and one of the young men was shot through the hand. All was quiet yesterday.

....The Altoona Tribune says during Friday night last some scoundrel visited the farm of Mr. Joseph Hagerty, near Blair Furnace, and wantonly and maliciously shot two valuable mares and two cows. One of the mares was owned by Michael McCullough, residing on Fourteenth avenue, in this city, and died from the effects of the wounds received the following morning. The other mare belonged to a gentleman named George Richards and will probably recover. The two cows that were shot belonged to Mr. Hagerty. They will also probably recover. It is said that the scoundrel who shot the poor dumb brutes is well known and that he will be arrested.

....On Saturday morning Adam C. Lazier met with a fatal accident at Wheeling. Mr. L. was on board of a street car which had crossed the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad track, and had narrowly escaped being struck by a train. He had become excited and had jumped off the rear platform of the car, when he fell, one of his legs falling on the railroad track and being smashed by the train. Physicians were summoned and the limb amputated, but he died about five hours after. Deceased, who belonged to Bellaire, had come to make arrangements for his brother-in-law's funeral when he met his own death. They were buried together on Sunday.

....Oliver Graham was committed to jail yesterday for trial, by Mayor Blackmore, on a charge of larceny preferred by John Cohen, of Brooksville. On the 8th of September the prosecutor was in the city, and while going to the Union Depot to take the train home, he was approached by Graham and another man, who asked him where he was bound for. He told them and they said they were going there, too. An invitation extended by them to take a drink, was accepted, and they went to a house near the depot, where Cohen was robbed of his watch, and Graham took his wallet, but was so closely pursued that he had to throw it away. Graham was arrested some time ago, but his hearing was postponed from time to time until the presence of the prosecutor could be secured.

PERSONAL.

Yesterday Hon. Wm. McClelland, late of the Lawrence county bar, was admitted to practice in our County Courts. Mr. McClelland proposes to settle in Pittsburgh in the practice of his profession, as one of the firm of Henderson & McClelland. He is a gentleman of fine legal culture, united to natural ability, whose success elsewhere is a guarantee of the same good fortune in his new and wider field of labor.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. William Smith, of the National Foundry and Pipe Works, returned home after a pleasant trip through the far West and along the Pacific coast. Mr. Smith on his trip was accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Tillie Gross, Miss Miller and Miss Coleman. They traveled through the famous Yosemite Valley, saw the big trees, climbed the mountains on "mustangs" and enjoyed themselves generally. They all returned home looking much the better for the trip. Mr. Smith thinks California a good country, San Francisco a "big" city, but he likes smoky Pittsburgh best.

Many of our older citizens will recollect the late Gilbert McKown, formerly a merchant in this city, well known and much esteemed. His daughter Mary Jane, once a favorite in the young society of Pittsburgh, emigrated, some thirty years ago, to Wisconsin, where she was married to a refugee Polish officer named Dzieanowski, and with him settled on a farm at Avoca, Iowa county, in that State. This lady—Mrs. Dzieanowski—accompanied by her daughter, an intelligent and beautiful young lady of twenty-two, has been spending the last ten days among her old friends in and near the city. We and many others of her old acquaintances have been much gratified with the opportunity thus afforded of renewing an old-time acquaintance and of recounting with her many pleasant memories of "auld lang syne."

Mrs. D., although her hair is silvered with the frosts of more than sixty winters, we were glad to find, changed only in having a more matured intelligence, her conversational powers unabated, as sprightly and buoyant as when we wrote in her album more than forty years ago. We doubt not the hearty greeting with which her visit was welcomed by many old neighbors and acquaintances will be laid up in a warm corner of her heart and be cherished there while she lives. We dare not remark on the impressions left by the charming daughter on her new acquaintances, further than to say that they all regret her stay could not be prolonged.

How to Live Economically.

The problem of how to economize in living is one that engages the serious attention of a great many people. "Many a little makes a mickle" was one of Benjamin Franklin's "Poor Richard" truisms that summarizes the whole system of popular extravagance. If you wish to save money, economize in little as well as in large items of expenditures. For all the household purchases for which polishing powders, Bath brick and soap are usually used, excepting the one thing of washing clothes, Sapolio is by many times the cheapest article that can be employed. To say nothing about its great superiority to all other substances, it is, on the score of money alone, by far the cheapest. Remember this fact and save many dollars every year. d&S

Defend Your Health.

A good method of defending the health at this season of the year, is to provide yourself with a good, substantial overcoat, and do not wait for the panic to blow over, but go at once to 95 Smithfield street, where there is no occasion for panic, since the stock of ready-made clothing at the Boston One Price Clothing House has been marked down with every fall in gold, until it is now the lowest of the low and the cheapest of the cheap. No shabby, shoddy overcoats either, but the very best and most durable quality of material, and made with a neatness and strength equal to ordered work.

THE HILL TRAGEDY.

More Evidence Accumulating.

On Saturday detectives Wilmot and Pender unearthed more evidence in the shape of goods belonging to the Brauenlein family, which had been found at the residence of John Scheuttler on Mount Washington. They consist of a shawl, a lamp, a dipper and a grater. The shawl and the lamp have been positively identified by Julia Freeberger as having belonged to old Mrs. Brauenlein, the murdered woman. She gave a description of the lamp which Mrs. B. owned and tallies exactly with the one found in the house on Mount Washington. Some curtains were also identified as having belonged to Mrs. Brauenlein. There were other things found which could not be identified. Near all the furniture of John Scheuttler's house is said to have belonged to Mrs. Brauenlein. The theory is, and it is generally expressed, that John and Lizzie Scheuttler committed the act, and that old Mrs. Scheuttler was cognizant of the fact.

Surgery.

There are few operations in Surgery that excite such feelings of dread, and to which people submit with more reluctance than the extraction of teeth. Many endure the tortures of toothache for weeks in order to put off the operation as long as possible. And when we remember the frequent accidents which occur in its performance, through the awkardness and ignorance of unskillful dentists, it is not surprising that it should be approached with apprehension. But when performed by a skillful Surgeon-Dentist like Dr. Quincy A. Scott, who administers any anaesthetic desired, the operation is always safe, successful, AND WITHOUT PAIN. His offices are at 278 Penn avenue, third door above Ninth street (late Hand street).

COLL'S SYPHON PUMPS.

Having received letters patent, dated October, 1873, for a new Syphon Pump, I am prepared to furnish a new and superior article which in no way infringes upon my previous patent and improvements sold to Sherriffs & Loughrey for the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. Being the inventor of both these Syphon Pumps, I flatter myself to be competent to say and decide that my last patent of October, 1873, is NOT an infringement in any way upon the patent or improvements sold to Sherriffs & Loughrey in July 1872, for the three States named. I respectfully invite my patrons and the public to call and examine and compare my original and latest patent pump and judge of their merits at my place of business,

THE Constitutional Convention yesterday adopted a resolution to adjourn on the or before Friday next, at two o'clock, P. M., and that in order to accomplish this object, sessions will be held every evening until that time.

PROFESSOR AGASSIZ has agreed to lecture in Washington, while Congress is in session, on the "Relations of Man to the other Animals." Whether there is a hidden purpose in the peculiar topic selected we are unable to say.

THE engineer of the train on the Chicago & Alton Railroad, which had a collision last Summer, causing the loss of several lives, has been declared not guilty of manslaughter, the crime for which he was indicted. This verdict is accepted as censuring the railroad company, in place of the employe.

THE Government does not propose to so issue silver as currency, as to promote speculation, but will only pay it out in small sums, and as change. Nor do we understand that it is meant to use it to curtail the fractional currency now in circulation. To redeem the fractional currency will be equivalent to the payment of just so much of the non-interest bearing debt.

IF THERE was any justification of the occupation of the capital of Khiva by the Russians needed, it has been furnished by the barbarities practised on captive Persians by the Usbek Tartars. It is quite astonishing that the Persians remained at Khiva, it being understood that those held in slavery were released. The probability is, that those killed were free Persians, of whom there were many in Khiva.

THE jury in the Kelsey case have returned a verdict that the remains found in Oyster Bay were those of Charles G. Kelsey, and that he came to his death at the hands of persons unknown. But several persons whose names have been mentioned in connection with his case, are declared accessories to the murder. Great excitement attended the announcement of the verdict, and several of the implicated parties have fled.

IN a little more than a month, Congress will meet for the winter, and already members of committees are gathering at Washington, to prepare reports or gather data for enforcing measures they may be called upon to present to the attention of Congress. We almost dread, in advance, the thought of what Congress may do with the financial problem, although it really possesses the power to do much that will benefit the country. We hope for the best.

WHILE we do not feel bound to sympathize with every case of trouble that may come upon those engaged in newspaper labor, the course of Judge Gilbert, of Brooklyn, in imprisoning the city editor of the New York Tribune because he would not give the name of the writer of a particular article, is simply outrageous. A newspaper, in the event of perpetrating a libel, has two options clearly recognized—that of surrendering the name of the writer of the offending article, and compelling him to bear the burden of the prosecution, or to accept the responsibility itself, and meet the suit at law. The Tribune has a responsible editor, well known to the public. In place of calling upon him to meet a libel suit, an employe is arrested, and because he will not give the name of a writer, is imprisoned for contempt of Court! In our view the imprisonment is on a false issue, and certainly the conduct of the Court is entirely outrageous.

THE financial stringency is making itself felt, to some extent, among the workmen of the country. The pressure for money leads to the curtailing of business, in many of its branches, and the consequent reduction of force, or hours of labor, or both. Hence, many are thrown out of employment, and others are limited in their income. We can only hope that this form of trouble may speedily pass away, or that there will be a reduction of the price of breadstuffs, that will compensate for the limited incomes of many. Of course, if the existing pressure continues, there must be a readjustment of values; but even this, despite the plentiful crops of the year, will bring many to face winter with a very limited preparation for its cold and hardships. We are yet hopeful that before winter is fully upon us, there will be a sufficient recovery from the prevailing depression for all to find employment at a fair remuneration.

SOME REVELATIONS, the outgrowth of the money pressure, of the manner in which the financial kings of New York were in the habit of doing business, have had a depressing influence on business and general confidence in that city. The failure of Grinnell & Co. developed that they had carried stocks for H. F. Clark, Augustus Schell, and J. H. Banker, to an aggregate amount of over $15,000,000, much of which represented losses in stock speculations, and at the same time, the indebtedness of these parties to the Grinnells. It is rumored that the estate of Horace F. Clark, rated at $10,000,000 at his death, is nearly or quite wiped out. Some of the securities placed with Grinnell & Co., were Lake Shore stock, and the use made of it is declared to be illegal. Little by little the surface is removed, and we see beneath, just enough to know that the reputedly wealthy men of New York have been anxiously struggling, for months preceding the panic, to avert the loss of their wealth. Some died during the terrible struggle, and others see the accumulations of a life time swept away. But worse—or better, as the case may be, is the thought, that these things come with such amazing swiftness and terrible certainty, undoubtedly, bad is the revelation of the arts and evils resorted to, to avert the impending storm. There is one gratifying circumstance, that out of it all comes a redistribution of wealth, and the breaking up of our monied aristocracy.

ENGLISH POLITICS.

The next session of the English Parliament promises to be an unusually important one, as in it will develop the struggle which must determine whether the Tories shall regain power, or the Liberals be continued in office. Both parties are energetically preparing for the coming effort. In the preliminary preparations, the Government party, in the latest moves, has been most successful. Disraeli, in his letter to a friend in Bath, used such violent language toward the ministry that it has brought the discredit upon his party of making captious and extreme charges, and this has benefitted the Liberals. It is further thought that the Tories will make an effort to send all political questions to the country, by rejecting the movement of an address in reply to that from the throne. If they can summon a majority on this point, they may carry their plans.

On the other hand, the Gladstone party is troubled to know what to do, and it is believed, have concluded to do nothing. The Ashantee war prevents them from proposing the repeal of the income tax, which would have been a popular measure to go before the country on. It has been proposed, by some of the Liberals, to bring in a bill to establish the English Church; but Gladstone, aware of the trouble he had with the Irish Church, refuses to be a party to this measure. To propose the enfranchisement of the laboring classes is to champion a measure sure to be opposed by those who now have votes—a risk the Premier is not willing to encounter. It is thus without any great question to go before the country, and it is, for this reason, its obvious policy to avoid a danger of this character. It has an excuse for not seeking to prorogue Parliament and appealing to the country in the result of the two borough elections recently held—its candidates being returned to Parliament by very respectable majorities. Thus, the situation is one which we often see in this country—the outs are exceedingly anxious to gain power; the ins desire to maintain the statu quo, and in this they will probably succeed.

IMPERSONAL JOURNALISM.

It has been a question among newspaper men, for some years past, whether what is called "Impersonal Journalism" is to be preferred to that in which the editors' names are published. American journalism has generally been accepted as "personal"—that is, the name of editor, or proprietor, or both is published. English journalism has usually been denominated "impersonal"—that is, no names are published. Mr. Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, in commenting on the London papers, during his visit in that city, fell into the beaten track, accepts without investigation or inquiry the general estimate, treats the London papers as impersonally conducted, and speaks of their writers as "scholarly dummies." Mr. G. W. Smalley, the London correspondent of the New York Tribune, devotes a two-column letter to the subject, and, as we think, justly and severely criticises Mr. Watterson's views. He utterly denies that London journals are impersonally conducted; affirming that not only the principal owners but the leading writers on the several prominent papers are thoroughly and appreciatively known in London society, and some even have a world-wide reputation.

On the Times, Messrs. Delane and Walter are known as principal owners and managers, while on the regular staff are Russell, Dasent, Courtney, Oliphant, Dallas, Simpson, Abel, Gallenga, Phillips and others. The most prominent of English statesmen write occasional articles on special subjects. On the Daily News is Frank Hill, as editor, J. R. Robinson, as manager, William Black, author of "The Princess of Thule," republished in Lippincott's Magazine, Forbes, Justin McCarthy, Miss Martineau, and others. On the Telegraph are Mr. Levy, as proprietor and manager, Edwin Arnold, Edward Dicey, Felix Whitehurst, and others; and all these are thoroughly well known in London society, and are particularly favored, because, in part, of their recognized journalistic position, and partly because of their agreeable personal qualities. Mr. Smalley finds occasion for criticising the London press, because it so fully represents society, the upper classes, and either ignores, or merely patronizes the laboring masses. Recently, the New York Herald introduced a new feature in American journalism,—by giving prominence to the names of employed writers. Thus Edmund Yates, J. Russell Young, Louisa Muhlbach, Mark Twain, and others were published with their several articles on the Vienna Exposition, or the visit of the Shah. This is considered as carrying personal journalism to an extreme limit. It is not, of course interesting, except to professionals, to discuss the advantages and disadvantages of the two systems. It is clear, however, that Mr. Watterson is entirely in error in pointing to this as the feature of difference between American and English journalism.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

In giving, a short time since, the conclusions reached by one of the German railroad experts, sent over to this country, to examine into the merits of the Northern Pacific Railroad as an investment, we mentioned that there was another report, made to Vienna bankers. We have this before us, and it seems so much more candid in spirit, and comprehensive in reasoning, that we give its conclusions. The entire report would occupy nearly a page of the GAZETTE, and, of course, is too lengthy for publication. The line of the road is described, the character of the work, quality and quantity of lands, growth of population, for three decades, average temperature at the four seasons of the year, the mineral productions, probable growth of business of the road, and all other questions which bear on the prospects of the road as an investment.

The comparison of probable profits is made with those of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads. "The Union and Central Pacific routes have in different respects points of resemblance to the Northern Pacific, although they were always favored in comparison with the latter by the advantage of a better developed back country. Of these two lines, which were opened to business in 1869, and which had therefore completed their first full trade year in 1870, the Union Pacific had on its 1,039 English miles of road in 1870, an income of $7,340 per mile; an expenditure of $4,502 per mile; clear profit, $2,838 per mile. The Central Pacific route, on the other hand, had in the same year, on its 820 miles of railway network, an income of $9,650 per mile; an expenditure of $4,952 per mile; clear profit, $4,707 per mile. The former line spent in expenses of traffic 61⅓, the latter 51 per cent. of the gross income. If we expected the same results on the Northern Pacific line, though they cannot be fully relied on by reason of the less developed back country, the Northern Pacific line might reckon on a gross income of about $16,000,000 in the first year of its full work. Of this 60 per cent., or say, $9,600,000, taken off for operating expenses, leaves still as clear profit a surplus $6,400,000, nearly sufficient to cover the interest of its bonds amounting to $7,800,-000 annually."

The deficiency thus indicated, can, under the charter of the Company, be made up by the sale of bonds. On this subject the report says. "It is not to be expected that the sale of land on the Northern Pacific line can at first be otherwise than slow, yet it may be concluded that after the long period of thirty years, with the increase of the value of land, enough capital will have been realized to redeem all the monetary obligations of the line, or at least more than to cover the still outstanding bonds. If we take into account 1st, the increase of building and traffic along the Northern Pacific Railway; 2d, the everywhere good, and in some places even excellent, condition of the land; 3d, the increasing value of the property granted to the Company; 4th, the various kinds of aid at the disposal of the Company, we must acknowledge that on the whole we have the basis of a remunerative and satisfactory enterprise." The final conclusion is as follows. "Our opinion, resulting from a thorough investigation of all the circumstances in connection with the Northern Pacific route, may be summed up briefly as follows: We consider the enterprise in itself sound and lucrative; the development of traffic will, however, not go on so rapidly as to insure the payment of all the interest on the different bonds directly after the opening of the line. Wherefore a definite reserve fund must be created. Besides this, the interests of bondholders do not seem to be duly provided for in certain arrangements of the mortgage deed. Should these objections be overcome, there will, in our conviction, as far as human probabilities go, be no room left to doubt the validity of the undertaking entered into by the Northern Pacific Railway in regard to the bondholders. But, on the contrary, should it be determined to carry out the enterprise in its present form, we should feel ourselves compelled to designate the investment of capital in bonds in the Northern Pacific here as imprudent and unsafe."

It will be seen that these examinations and conclusions are not unfavorable, if we except a simple feature—the non-provision of a reserve fund to meet the interest on bonds for a few years when the road first opened. We are not advocating the merits of the Northern Pacific Railroad, but simply placing before our readers the data for a fair judgment of the merits of the enterprise, which has been thought to have brought on the financial panic.

BEAVER COUNTY.

The Recent Election—The Financial Pressure—Improvements in Beaver and New Brighton—All the Towns in the Valley Looking Up.

(Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

BEAVER COUNTY, October 28, 1873.

THE ELECTION.

The elections over, Beaver county, is again at peace with herself and the world. We had a lively fight, not a pitched battle exactly, especially on the part of the enemy, but a regular mountain "bushwhack." Out in the Virginia mountains in the early part of the war, when we were exceedingly raw soldiers, we of the Union persuasion used to have a singular contempt for fighting behind trees and logs and in the laurel bushes. Once we met the enemy; they were in the bushes, we in the road; a fight was had, and we came away not only whipped but fearfully demoralized; and every time we undertook to fight fair in those terrible thickets, we invariably got a severe drubbing. When we learned to "bushwhack," we out-bushwhacked the most perfectly skilled mountaineers in the whole region. We despised it, but it was "bushwhack" or be whipped, and we preferred the former. These Democrats of Beaver county, this year, have been the best specimens of the perfect bushwhacker that I have ever seen. They skulked, sneaked and hid behind everything that would afford the slightest protection. They had a "refuge of lies" that was as endless and varying as any laurel thicket in the whole of Virginia. When driven from one point, they concealed themselves behind another, and no dislodgment was sufficient to drive them from their well-formed refuge.

FINANCIAL PRESSURE.

Our neighborhood has not yet succumbed to the financial pressure, though it bears heavily on every branch of industry. The factories are yet all in operation, and no doubt will continue in full operation.

IMPROVEMENTS GOING ON.

Considerable building is being done. We notice some creditable structures in course of erection, or about completed, in Beaver, that are a decided improvement to the place. It is such a beautiful spot for cosy and more pretentious residences, that the only wonder is, that more and better buildings are not erected. New Brighton also is being graced with some new buildings. That of Joseph Wilson is a neat, commodious brick, located on the first steppe of the town, and commands the most beautiful view, of any building near it, of a part of lower and upper Beaver Valley. Wm. M. Keyser has also in course of erection, a splendid dwelling of brick, finished with a tower, that is a very great addition to the "Sylvan Avenue."

But here and there, in all the towns in the valley, improvements are being made, that will add much to our material prosperity. "Hard times" don't seem to affect us much; the people are at work, contented and happy, with apparent plenty crowning the works of their hands. Reference must be made to the enterprising effort of our neighbor, Mrs. McKibben, who is aiming to supply the people of New Brighton with first class hotel and boarding accommodations. The old seminary building, located on the first plateau, in an admirable and lovely spot for comfort and health, has been fitted and thoroughly renovated, and is now well adapted for the uses proposed.

We bespeak her a large run of custom, and especially when the next heated season is upon us. No better spot can be found in the valley for a convenient and pleasant summer resort than this will afford.

NEW ENGINE HOUSE.

I was going to tell you about our new engine house, &c., in this letter, but as usual I have strung out until there is no room. I will tell you that again some day, and will only say now that it is one of the links in the chain by which we are securing to ourselves a hold on the enterprise of the age. It is a good thing. R.

THE KELSEY MURDER.

The Verdict of the Coroner's Jury.

After many days of waiting and wondering, the coroner's jury, in the case of the Huntington mystery, have come to the conclusion that the human remains about which so much has been said and written, are the remains of Charles G. Kelsey, and implicating as participants and abettors of the crime of killing him nearly all the persons who had been prominently mentioned in connection with the famous tar and feather outrage and tragedy of last November. The verdict as rendered is generally admitted to be, under the circumstances, as severe as the jury could be justified in finding. Of course there are some rabid people who do not think it is pointed enough, and these, if they could do so, would doubtless have a Coroner's jury render a verdict of conviction absolute against all hands. The text of the finding is as follows: "An inquisition taken before Valentine Baylis, one of the Coroners of Queens county, State of New York, and a jury of twelve men, duly summoned and sworn, held at the house of A. A. Reed, in the village of Oyster Bay, on the remains found floating in the harbor of Oyster Bay, Queens county, State of New York, on the 29th day of August, 1873, do say upon their oaths that the said remains are those of Charles G. Kelsey, a resident of the town of Huntington, Suffolk county, State of New York, who disappeared from that place on the night of Nov. 4, 1872. And the jury further find that the said Charles G. Kelsey came to his death by reason of brutal treatment received at the hands of certain persons to the jury unknown in said town of Huntington, on the night of November 4, 1872; and the jury also find that Royal Sammis, George B. Banks, Arthur T. Hurd, William J. Wood, John McKay and Henry R. Prince aided, abetted and countenanced by their presence the committal of the gross outrage and inhuman violence upon the person of Charles G. Kelsey which led to his death on the night of November 4, 1872, and that Arthur M. Prime, Claudius B. Prime, S. H. Burgess, Rudolph Sammis and James McKay were accessories before the fact—Valentine Caylis, Coroner; James M. Burtis, foreman; Samuel S. Summers, John Wilson Smith, Alexander Fleming, James Starkins, James Satterlee Clark, John H. Vail, Joseph B. Wright, Edward Long, Joseph Ludlam, Daniel N. Cashaw, John Wood."

The inquiry will naturally be, What will be done next in regard to the matter? Some of the parties implicated are so bold as to say that when it comes to a trial there will be an exposure of conspiracy that will startle the community as much as the Kelsey case has done, and that the county will become too warm to hold some people. The conspiracy to tar and feather Kelsey has been already proved, and it would be curious to find a conspiracy existing against conspirators, a greater ring with a lesser one in its confines. We have been actually assured that the defence will prove that the legs which have been the subject of all this mystery and sensation were brought to Oyster Bay in May last, and the gentleman who makes the assertion holds a position in the affair that would make it very ridiculous for him if he fails.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

PALESTINE is said to be swarming with Americans.

THE banks on the Continent of Europe have raised the discount rates.

THE list of dogs' names registered on the license books of Detroit shows one hundred and fifty-four "Fidoes" and about the same number of "Trips."

THE Baltic Gazette says the Russian Government has been obliged to order arrests among the Roman Catholic clergy in the Diocese of Chelm. A vast politico-religious conspiracy has been discovered among the clergy.

WOMEN are said to be adapted for employment on railroads because they can manage "trains" and understand "switches" perfectly; but there is one disqualification to be considered—they attract too many "sparks."

A NEW way of preserving autumn leaves is given as follows: Iron them fresh with a warm, but not hot iron, on which some spermaceti has been lightly rubbed. This method, it is said, preserves their tints and gives them a gloss which cannot be secured by other means.

AS A street car was crossing the track of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, in Wheeling, on Saturday, a passenger train struck the hind end of the street car. The passengers becoming frightened, jumped off, and one man named Adam C. Lazear was run over and so badly injured that he died in four hours. Mr. Lazear was returning home from making arrangements for the funeral of his brother-in-law when the accident occurred.

A MAN at Trenton who found several thousand dollars over two years ago and has advertised it every day since that time, also gets great credit for his honesty. Any man would have quit looking for the owner long ago; yet this Trenton man keeps on advertising. But he owns the paper in which it is advertised, and pays at full rates out of the money found. After three years more of advertising, the whole amount will have been absorbed.

A LETTER from Berlin shows that that city has not only been affected by the American panic, but is preparing for one of its own uninterrupted scandals on the Bourse. Irregularity and insecurity in every branch of business, prodigality and waste among the middle classes, great suffering among the poor, a swelling tide of emigration, and all forms of pecuniary distress hang over the city, and all said to be owing to nothing less than specie inflation.

A Methodist Miracle.

Mrs. Ellen C. Sherman, wife of the Rev. Moses Sherman (Methodist), of Piermont, Grafton county, New Hampshire, claims to have had a miraculous visitation from Christ, and her description of it is as striking as those related by the Roman Catholic Saint of Paray la Monial. She has been a sufferer for fifteen years—confined to her bed for a large portion of the time. On the 10th of September, 1872, she became entirely helpless. She regarded her recovery as impossible, and on that night "consecrated herself completely to Christ." On accomplishing this, she states that she became conscious of a Divine presence in her room, and a voice whispered, "I will come unto you, and will manifest myself unto you." To this she responded in her heart, but not with her lips, "Lord, if Thou wilt, Thou canst make me clean." Immediately that voice replied lovingly and sweetly, "I will. Be thou clean." "And," she adds, "with the word came the cleansing power of Christ's most precious blood." She did not see Christ's form, but his presence seemed to fill the room like a cloud.

The Latest Effusion.

The literature of epitaphs, says the London Standard, was recently enriched by the poetical effusion of a gentleman at Dulverton, who considers his brother's tomb a favorable place for making a lasting record of his dissatisfaction at the conduct of his sister-in-law. The epitaph commences in a perfectly orthodox manner, "To the memory of, &c., &c.," but suddenly breaks out into this wild quatrain:

"Neglected by his doctor,
Treated cruel by his nurse.
His brother was robbed by his widow;
Which makes it all the worse."

If the cruel treatment and neglect were on a level with the poetry, they must have been bad indeed. It is, in fact, difficult to see that anything could possibly happen to make the whole affair worse than it is.

RUPTURE.

There are hundreds of people ruptured who don't know what ails them; there are others who don't know what to do for it, nor where to seek for relief or a cure; others again who have had rupture for years, under the false notion that there can be no danger in the future, as there has been none in the past. This is a fatal delusion, and there is no knowing what day the rupture may become strangulated, and call for a painful and dangerous surgical operation. To avoid so fearful a result, make application to some competent person to have a truss applied. Will a truss cure me, you may ask. Very often it will, but it will always retain the parts so as to make you secure and safe from danger, and at a cost so trifling as to be hardly worth mentioning when compared with the enormous risk you run in letting it alone. Dr. Keyser, at his office, 167 Liberty street, is provided with every appliance suitable to the retention and cure of this terrible evil. He has trusses at a price as low as can be obtained anywhere in the country, and in every variety and quality—of such vast variety, that the most difficult and long standing cases, of years duration, are made manageable and brought within the province of cure. Let no one deceive themselves into the belief that rupture is never curable; but worst than all, let none consent to "let as be" cure.

Speedily Cured.—All Forms

NO CHARGE UNTIL CURED.

Syphilis, Stricture, Orchitis, Hernia and all Urinary diseases are cured in the shortest possible time that will insure permanent relief, Spermatorrhea, or Seminal weakness and Impotency, as the result of self-abuse or excess in maturer years, and which produce some of the following effects, as emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, cough, indigestion, constipation, despondency, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, loss of memory, and sexual power, and which unfits the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing insanity and consumption, are thoroughly and permanently cured. Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications confidential.

This Institute was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. The proprietors have made the treatment of Private and special diseases the study of their lives, and can refer to thousands all over the country that have been benefitted and cured by their treatment. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, if curable, after a personal examination they will frankly tell you; remember, they have cured many cases given up by other physicians.

Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address:

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY EVENING, October 27, 1873.

The Financier, of New York, in its issue of Saturday last, has an article on "Confidence and Credit," in which it says: "In this temporary paralysis, which is made by everybody's halting to see first what everybody else in about to do, Tweed's famous question comes up: 'What are we going to do about it?'" Why is it that the New York papers, in reporting finances, do not mention that the banks of Pittsburgh did not suspend currency payments, or make use of loan certificates? Surely the creditable action of the Pittsburgh banks is well worthy of mention.

The money market presents no new features, unless it be that money is apparently growing scarcer instead of more plenty. We hear of outrageous rates being asked by those who have money to loan. There is neither reason nor justice in any one taking advantage of the necessities of men, at a time like this. The asking of such high rates will tend to destroy all our manufacturers, and bring ruin on all classes. Banks, ought now to be lenient, and treat our business men with consideration.

In New York, to-day, stocks have been comparatively steady—though with a tendency towards still lower figures. New York Central declined 1⅛ per cent., and others about as much. Gold opened at 108¾ and closed at 108¼, showing a slight decline during the day.

Luther S. Kauffman, Banker, No. 96 Fourth Avenue, furnishes the following quotations of bonds and stocks from the latest advices by telegraph:

PITTSBURGH MARKETS—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, October 27, 1873.

ALE—There is a moderate demand, but no change in prices as yet, although an early advance in the card seems almost certain, in consequence of the largely increased cost of Barley, which is almost double what it was at this time last year. We continue to quote X at $9 per brl. to the country, and $8 to the city; XX at $10, and India Ale at $11. Half brls. in regular proportion.

Prime to choice Ohio Sweitzer, 17@18.

FIRE BRICK—West Virginia, $18 to $20. Boliver grades, $85. Star, $85. Woodland, $85. Mount Savage, $65.

FLOUR—Trade, so far as our market is concerned, continues quiet, although taking everything into consideration, about all that can be expected. Dealers generally are refusing to sell much on credit, preferring to keep their flour to increasing book accounts, and this, of course, is not without its effect on business. As regards prices, there has been no quotable change; spring wheat flours, $7.25@7.50; red winter wheat flours, $7.75@8; fancy St. Louis, $10@10.50. There is a continued good export demand, notwithstanding the financial troubles, and the indications are that it will continue all winter. Rye Flour, $5.25@5.50.

GRAIN—The market for all kinds of Grain has been rather quiet during the past week, and with increased receipts and a demand restricted entirely to supplying immediate wants, the feeling is scarcely as strong, although prices have undergone but little change. The offerings of Wheat continue liberal, and with but little inquiry the market is rather dull, but we continue last week's quotations; $1.47@1.50 for red, $1.53@1.55 for amber, and $1.58@1.60 for white. Country orders in this market continue scarce, and the city mills are buying sparingly. In regard to the Oat market, we have to report a steady demand and prices are fully sustained; we continue to quote at 46@49c, according to quality. The receipts and offerings of Corn are rather larger, and with but a limited inquiry the market is easier; may be fairly quoted at 60@61 on track. For Shelled Corn, and 62@63 free in elevator. Rye—reported quiet and unchanged, with but little offering, and not much inquiry for it; we continue to quote at 85@90. Barley is in fair supply. WHISKY—Highwines have undergone but little change in price during the past week, and we continue to quote at 94@95c.

WHITE LEAD—The demand has slacked up somewhat, but prices have undergone no change whatever. We continue to quote strictly pure, in 100 keg lots, at 12 cents and 12½ cents in a jobbing way. In tin packages, one half to one cent ℔ ℔. additional.

WOODEN WARE—Two hoop Pails, $2.35; three hoop do, $2.60. No. 1 three hoop tubs, $10.50. No. 2, two hoop Tubs, $9.00. No. 3, two hoop tubs, $8.00. Plain Wash boards, per dozen, $2.50; Crimp, $2.75; IXL, 2.50.

WOOL—There is nothing doing at present in the wool trade worth noting. Dealers do not care to buy until financial matters are settled. Growers are anxious to sell, but not willing to submit to any decline, hence, it is useless to expect any transactions. Advices from the east speak of very dull markets, and but few transactions for cash, in which case prices are lower. If the mills should stop to any extent, prices would decline more. If, on the contrary, the machinery is kept going, we do not look for any material decline in prices. We omit quotations as entirely nominal.

ALLEGHENY LIVE STOCK MARKET.

ALLEGHENY STOCK YARDS, MONDAY, October 27, 1873.

CATTLE.

The number on sale to-day was the largest we have had to record for several months, if not this year; the whole number footed up between 1,350 and 1,400, against about 900 last Monday. There were 43 cars of western cattle reported as follows: Jacob Needy, from East Liberty, 2 cars; from Bellaire, 3 cars. Keefer and Lobman, East Liberty, 2. Davis and Rush, 2. Davis, 1. J. W. Brown, Bellaire, 1. V. Cockins, 1. R Griffith, 1. Davis and S, 1 J. M. Dickson, 1. W. Brown ing 1. S. Marks and Bro, Chicago, 2. William Moonshine, 1. Keefer and Katz, 1. L. Contras, Lafayette, 1. D. Clorr, 1. Holmes, L and Co, Nevada, 2. G. A. Vanuatta, Mansfield, 1. Greenwald and Kahn, Crestline, 3. Head and Trimble, Orrville, 1. L Nichols, 1. Geo Crum, Palestine 1. J. B. McMillan, 1. W. Reis, Newlyme, 1. W. E. Power, Conneautville, 1. M. J. Silverthorne, Albion, 1. C. A. McCleary, Bridgeport, 1. E. A Smith, 1. John Jingo, 2. C. M. Helmes, Canal Dover, 1. J. A. Pryor, Bridgeport, 1. John Rogers, 1. M. Rudolph, New Philadelphia, 1. Drove in—P. Sheitmantle, Butler Co. 30 head. M. Flinner, 15. Harry Nagle, 10. M. Humes, Beaver Co. 15. John Simmers, 13. Thomas Bingham Mercer Co. 26. J. W. Cunningham, 9. Isaac Zeigler, Washington Co. 53. M. Kauffman, 35. Jacob Shamberg, 29. Lowenstein and A. 47. P. Hartman, Green Co. 47. Metz and Kestner, 47. Reilley and Co. Crawford Co. 60. M. Varner, West Va. 77. Making a total of 505, which added to the 43 cars, at 20 head to the car, would make an aggregate of 1,365.

It is scarcely necessary to state, with this unusually heavy supply, that the market was a very hard one on the selling interest; with the exception of a few extra to fancy cattle, which, as is well known, will always bring a fancy price, there was a sharp decline. Light slippery stock, as well as heavy rough cattle, of which the offerings consisted mainly, may be quoted down from ¼ ⅜ of a cent, and even at this reduction they couldn't all be sold; we presume there were between 300 and 400 head unsold at 12 o'clock, and the market was then about over. There were four cars of prime to extra Chicago cattle on sale, some of which cost from 5.80 to 6 cts per ℔ there; these were sold here at from 6⅞ to 6½, and, so it was said be those who ought to know, made no money. Prime to extra Ohio and Penna cattle brought from 5⅞ to 6 cts; medium to good 4⅞@5, and in regard to inferior and common, buyers were able almost to dictate the price, as holders all anxious to realize, and besides, there was no inducement to hold over, as it is almost certain that this kind of trash, it cannot be called anything else, will be worth no more next Monday, but notwithstanding all this the supply was largely in excess of the demand, which is evident from the fact that there were, as we have already stated, a large number of this character left over unsold.

The market, taking it all in all, was without doubt the worst of the season; the over supply together with the stringency in money matters, operated badly on the selling interest, and in not a few instances cattle were sold for about, if not less, than they cost at home. Butchers complain that the hard times, reduction in time and wages, with a great number of men out of employment altogether, has curtailed the consumption of beef, and consequently they do not require so many cattle.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The supply on sale to day footed up about 1,250 head against 1,500 last Monday; the offerings as a rule were common, hence while the better grades were nearly all picked up early in the day, the scalawag stock opened dull and dragged all the way through, although at the close there were very few unsold. Prime to extra sheep retailed at 5 to 5⅞ cts. per ℔. medium to good 4@4⅞, scalawags $1.50@2 per head. Lambs brought from $1.50 to $4.50 per head, according to quality and weight. The following named parties had the stock on sale to day: Peter Sheitemantle, Butler county, 80. Gettman & Egis, 49. M. Humes, Beaver county, 51. S. W. Vandever, 80. John Simmons, 125. James Haworth, 67. Gus Farien, 51. Adam Eckert, 105, from Ohio. 25 from Penna. Jacob Keefer, Lawrence county, 114. McCaslin & Cole, 100. W. McCreery, 47. James Shaw, 63. James Haslen, Washington county, 36.

HOGS.

There was an average demand and with a reduced supply, the market was more active, although there was but little change to note in prices; sales were made in a retail way at 4⅞ to 4⅞, gross. The bulk of the stock to day was in the hands of regular dealers.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

The Crude market continues quiet and unchanged, ranging from $1 to $1.10 per brl. according to pipe line, equal to 5¼@5⅞c per gallon delivered here. Refined is quotable at 13½@13⅞c, on cars here for western shipment, and 16@16⅞ delivered in Philadelphia. There is very little offering on spot, and November is reported as being pretty well sold.

Oil barrels were quite active to-day but at lower prices; sales were reported at $2.00 for countries, and $2.25 for city make.

RIVER NEWS.

State of the Rivers, Movements of Steamboats, &c.

The river was rising slowly last evening, with 9 feet 6 inches in channel. Heavy rains on Saturday night, and if they were general, and of this there is not much doubt, there will be more water within the next 24 hours.

The Carrie Brooks, from Zanesville, is the only arrival we have to record. She will take her departure again to-day.

The Mary Davage, Captain James W. Batchelor, is announced to take her departure for St. Louis to day without fail.

The Rover will depart for St. Louis with a cargo of railroad iron as soon as it can be loaded at the Superior Mill. She will doubtless bring back a cargo of ore.

The John Dippold is reported as having sunk two barges of coal near Shade River on Sunday.

The R. R. Hudson and towboats, Wild Duck and Hornet are among the first boats due. The John Gilmore arrived from Pomeroy yesterday with a tow of ore. She was assisted part of the way by the Fox.

The hull of Captain Darragh's new mammoth sternwheeler is now safely moored in the Allegheny River, in front of Ree's engine shop, where her engines are being constructed. She will be pushed forward to completion as soon as possible.

The Messenger is still laid up, but it is probable she will commence business within the next day or two. Capt. Cox is not the man to lay by if there is any show at all.

The Juniata during the heavy fog on Sunday morning ran on the dam at the head of White's Ripple. After lighterin on a barge she was pulled off by the storm.

—A Cincinnati telegram under date of yesterday says: Hard and increased rains prevailed Saturday night, yesterday and last night. The river has risen eight feet and one inch in the past 48 hours, with 18 feet 9 inches in channel. The coal fleet arrivals up to noon are: Whale, Tom Rees No 2, Coal Valley, Tom Dodsworth, J. Sharp McDonald, Abe McDonald, Fred. Wilson No. 2, My Choice, Grand Lake No. 2. It is reported here that the Henry Probasco has been chartered or purchased for the Evansville trade. The Whale arrived yesterday morning, leading the coal fleet. This makes the fourth season in succession she has led the coal fleet. The Senate Committee on Transportation which arrived here yesterday, having passed over the proposed route of the James River and Kanawha canal, held a conference this morning with committees from the Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade, and listened to the reading of reports and speeches in reference to the water route transportation question. Hon. Richard Smith read a report on the general importance of the scheme. John Cochenower spoke in the coal interest, Mr. Hull in the iron interest, and Thomas F. Sherlock on the general river interest.

—Steam was raised for the first time on the new Illinois Central Railroad transfer steamer, built by Howard & Co. Her machinery will be tested to-day, and when the water permits she leaves for Cairo. The steamer Robert Mitchell is to be put as a regular packet in the Louisville and New Orleans trade.

—Captain Birch, of Marietta, said to be the oldest pilot on the Ohio, is seventy nine years old has been blown up four times, on the Harry Dean last, and had both legs broken, and is now a cripple.

—Pilots Jos. Jacobs and Jim Montague will take charge of the Ironsides' wheel and pilot her to Cincinnati. She is now lying at Carondelet with five barges loaded with iron ore.

—Freights on Saturday from Louisville to New Orleans were from 40 to 50 cents for pound lots and 75 cents for potatoes.

—The new canal at Louisville will be opened in a day or two. The packet companies start out their new boats on Wednesday.

European Steamship Arrivals Reported Yesterday.

The Result.

The result of the reduction in wages ten per cent. has been that several of the blast furnaces have shut down, the men refusing to work, while the anticipation is that all the blast furnaces will soon be stopped for the same reason. The proprietors say they must quit or reduce wages, as the pig iron is down now to nearly ante-war prices, and labor and material is not. There must be a reduction all along the line, they say, to enable them to continue business with any show of profit.

Family Infelicity.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Schnaber appeared before Alderman D. L. Smith, of Allegheny, and made an information, charging her brother-in-law, John Frutting, with adultery. A few minutes after, John's wife came in, and unfolded a tale of marital infelicity into the ears of the confiding magistrate, and wound up by making an information of fornication against Etta Schlaler, and by charging her husband with surety of the peace. Warrants were issued. In the morning, before the Mayor, John paid twenty-five dollars and costs for abusing his wife.

Suicide By Drowning.

Coroner West, yesterday, held an inquest on the body of Joseph Herly, a native of Germany, aged forty-five years, who was found floating in the Monongahela river. Deceased, who was a cooper by trade, had been greatly depressed for a week past or more, by reverses that he experienced in business, and which drove him to distraction. He wandered to a point near Six Mile Ferry, where he walked into the river and was drowned. A verdict of suicide while laboring under a temporary fit of insanity, was rendered. Deceased resided on Josephine, between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets, South Side, where he leaves a wife.

This evening they will officially visit Hope Lodge, 243, of Allegheny, and will be escorted by the Great Western Lodge, 345, of Pittsburgh, in full uniform, and the Great Western Band. After business is done with in Allegheny, Great Western and Hope Lodges, headed by the Great Western Band, will march back to this city, when a grand banquet will be served at the Opera House Dining Rooms. Great Western and Hope are the leading Knights of Pythias Lodges in the western section of the State, and they together will turn out about five hundred members in full uniform.

The Winter's Coal.

People who prefer wetting the winter's store of coal to lay the dust on putting it into their cellars, do not generally know that they are laying up for themselves a store of sore throats and other evils consequent upon the practice. Even the fire-damp, says an exchange, which escapes from the coal mines, arises from the slow decomposition of coal at temperatures of but little above that of the atmosphere, but under augmented pressure. By wetting a mass of freshly broken coal and putting it into a cellar, the mass is heated to such a degree that carburetted and sulphuretted hydrogen are given off for long periods of time and pervade the whole house. The liability of wet coal to mischievous results under such circumstances may be appreciated from the fact that there are several instances on record of spontaneous combustion of coal when stowed into the bunkers or holds of vessels. And from this cause, doubtless, many missing coal vessels have perished.

Three Elegant Silver Goblets.

About eight o'clock last evening a gentleman wearing a very mysterious expression upon his face, called at the Mayor's office and quietly stepping up to the desk where Clerk Hartzell was busily engaged in writing, said that he had a tale to pour into the ear of the proper official, at the same time placing upon the desk a "poke" that bore a remarkable resemblance to an hour glass. The reporters present silently pulled out paper and pencil, the detectives drew their chairs together and anxiously awaited developments, while Charley Duff manipulated the police dial in a vain attempt to get a report from the Seventeenth ward station house. The clerk intimated that he was authorized to listen to anything any one might desire to say to him, and forthwith proceeded to untie the little sack, and took therefrom a beautiful silver goblet.

"Where did you get that," said an inquisitive reporter.

"That I will tell to the proper person," replied the gentleman, and drawing nearer to the clerk he bent down over the desk and whispered in his ear, that about four o'clock yesterday afternoon he went to the cellar of the house where he roomed, No. 246 Penn street, and discovered three silver goblets, of which the one before him was a sample. The initials "Ft. B. C." are engraved on each of the vessels, and are supposed to stand for "First Baptist Church," as the goblets look like those used in communion service. The name of the gentleman who found them is C. B. Yatman, and his place of business is No. 73 Water street. They were found in a part of the cellar near the street opening, which would seem to indicate that they had been thrown there. The detectives will work the case up to-day.

E. S. MORROW..........Clerk

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

A NON PLUSSED COMMITTEE.

Mr. McCARTHY—Mr. Chairman, before you proceed to regular business I'd like to make a statement by general consent.

No objection was made.

Mr. McCARTHY then explained that some time since a resolution was passed directing the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform to investigate charges made in reference to the letting of the contract for improving Penn avenue. At the time there was a great deal of talk, but as soon as the committee commenced work every avenue of information was closed up as tight as an oyster. The committee had appointed himself and Mr. Everson a sub committee to get facts. He (the speaker) had been at work, but could not gain any information whatever. He desired, therefore, to state that unless parties who had knowledge of the matter came forward, the committee would have to report that they could gain no information and ask to have the matter dropped.

The CHAIR—Have you any plan to offer?

Mr. McCARTHY—No, sir; nothing but to give notice to parties interested, that we are waiting for information.

Mr. RAFFERTY, Petition for crossing on Fifth avenue. Referred.

Mr. CHALMERS, Petition for grading, paving and curbing of Colwell street from Vine to Dinwiddie. Referred.

Also resolution instructing Board of Viewers to assess damages for grading Pearl street. Referred.

THE SECOND AVENUE TROUBLE.

Mr. KIRK offered the following:

WHEREAS, An unauthorized Committee have ordered legal proceedings to be instituted in the name of the city against the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company, on the questions at issue relative to Second avenue improvement; and

WHEREAS, The matter in dispute has been brought to the attention of Councils, and that Councils, recognizing the importance of the Connellsville Railroad to the city of Pittsburgh, are desirous that the good will and friendly feeling that has existed between the company and the city in the past shall be continued in the future, and that, therefore, no appeal shall be made to the Courts on the part of the city until Councils have fully investigated the subject and exhausted all means of amicable settlement; therefore

Resolved, That the City Attorney is hereby directed to suspend all legal proceedings in behalf of the city until directed by Councils to resume the same.

Resolved, That a committee of two from Select and three from the Common Council, together with the Presidents of Councils, be appointed to confer with the officers of said Company, and endeavor to secure an amicable settlement of all matters in dispute, and report their conclusions to Councils.

On motion of Mr. Kirk the rules were suspended by a vote of 30 to 6 to consider the resolutions.

Mr. KIRK then explained the trouble between the city and the Connellsville Railroad in reference to Second avenue, and recited the action of the sub-Committee in ordering Court proceedings in the case without reporting back to the Joint Committee having the matter in charge or getting any authority from Councils. The speaker said if the matter was properly considered by Councils the authorities of the Railroad Company would yield to any fair compromise rather than have any litigation. He (the speaker) considered the action of the committee looking to a pressure on the company to compel them to bring their road to suit the grade on Second avenue, disgraceful. The city had no case and couldn't make it out in Court.

Mr. Riddell—Do I understand the gentleman that a sub-committee ordered these legal proceedings without reporting to Councils?

Mr. Kirk—Yes sir.

Mr. Rafferty—And against the advice of the City Solicitor who says the city has no case.

Mr. SCULLY said there never had been a demand made upon the railroad company to make them lower their tracks to the grades of the streets. President Cohen, of the company himself, said that the tracks were on the Second avenue line. The trouble simply was that the railroad company wanted the city to pay for widening Second avenue. That was the dispute now.

Mr. RAFFERTY stated that in committee, it had been admitted that the road had a right to the location they were now occupying, and the only way to bring them to terms was to to compel them to lower their tracks to suit the grades of the cross streets. He (the speaker) didn't believe in such a method of subjugating a company.

Mr. E. P. JONES said this was a mistake. The fact was that the Railway company was disposed to concede nothing. They wanted the city to widen Second avenue and make everything to suit their tracks. The committee finding this to be the case could do nothing else but order legal proceedings. The legal proceedings were commenced at his suggestion, after the committee had repeatedly met and conversed with President Cohen and failed to get any proposition from him. The last time the committee met, at a time to suit his convenience he, failed to come, and after waiting an hour, the committee adjourned and then the Commissioners, not the committee, had entered proceedings to get the injunction against them dissolved so that they could go on with the work.

Mr. KIRK said that the question was very simple. The City Attorney said the road had a right to the line upon which their tracks were laid, but by law they could be compelled to bring their tracks down to suit the grades. It was merely a legal technicality to compel the road to come to terms that would be more favorable to the city. All he asked was that the Councils should take cognizance of a dispute of which officially they had never yet heard anything.

Mr. RIDDELL clearly understood one point. A committee appointed to ascertain the facts in the case had passed upon the facts themselves. They had used the name of the city to institute legal proceedings. He thought no committee had such power—had no right to authorize the City Solicitor to institute legal proceedings without instructions from the City Councils.

Mr. SCULLY denied that the City Attorney had entered the case at all. The proceedings were brought by the Second Avenue Commissioners and in their name.

A dispute then arose as to the matter of fact—who had entered the proceedings—the city or the Commissioners.

Mr. WARING moved, in view of this question of fact, that the resolutions be laid on the table.

Mr. LITTELL said that was the reason why the matter should not be laid on the table. Councils did not smother up matters in that way.

Mr. R. B. BROWN explained that the committee had visited the ground, and upon coming back had been favored with a dinner and wine at the expense of the Railroad Company. [Laughter.] But no final settlement was reached. A second sub-committee was appointed. They investigated the matter, and came no nearer a conclusion. He thought now that if two committees had failed a third committee might be appointed to take it in hand.

The City Attorney was now called upon, and stated that he had not appeared and had not been instructed to appear before the court for the city. The motion to dissolve the injunction had been made by the attorney of the Second Avenue Commission—not by the city.

THE CHAIR—Is the injunction against the city too.

Mr. BIGELOW—Yes sir, it is against the city and the Second avenue Commission. I have not been instructed to appear for the city.

The vote was then taken on the motion to lay on the table resulting as follows:

Ayes—Aiken, Chalmers, Foster, Froelich, Hains, House, E. P. Jones, Kernan, Lally, Liddell, Minnick, Murray, McCandless, Pearson, Scully, Waring, Wilson, Zern—18.

Nays—Adams, Ahl, Atkinson, G. A. Brown, R. B. Brown, Dannells, Dietrich, Dorrington, Doyle, Duncan, Durling, Elder, Galvin, Goldthorpe, Hays, Hunter, Kirk, Kline, Laufman, Lloyd, Littell, Marshall, Morrow, McCarthy, McClurg, McDonald, McKee, Rafferty, Rayburn, Schmit, Seely, Smith, Thompson, Walters, President Gross—35.

So the resolutions were not laid out on the table. Messrs. Riddell and Fetterman did not vote.

The Chair then asked what effect the passage of the resolutions would have on the Second avenue commission's action.

Mr. Littell said in a similar case of which he had cognizance, the court had refused to allow the case to be argued when the City Solicitor appeared and stated that the city had not authorized legal proceedings. The city was above the commission.

After a long discussion on this point,

Mr. McCANDLESS moved that the further consideration of the question be postponed and the matter be allowed to rest with the Joint Committee now having it in charge.

Mr. FETTERMAN moved to amend by instructing the City Solicitor to appear and watch the proceedings to see that an injunction be not granted against the city, also, by default as might be the case if an injunction was granted.

The amendment was adopted and the motion to postpone as amended finally adopted.

The call of the wards was then resumed.

Mr. R. B. BROWN, petition for frame building. Referred.

Mr. GALVIN, Petition for privilege to build a frame building in Twenty-sixth ward. Referred.

Mr. FETTERMAN, Petition for board walk on Garden street, Thirty-second ward. Referred.

Also, remonstrance against grade of Railroad streets, Thirty-second ward. Received and filed.

Mr. LLOYD, from the Committee on Water, presented the report for September, which was filed.

Mr. ZERN presented the Wharf Committee's report for September, which was received and filed.

BROWNSVILLE AVENUE.

Mr. ADAMS, from the Select Committee on the Brownsville Road Improvement, South Side, reported that the principal objection was against a wooden pavement, but recommended the passage of the ordinance now pending before Councils.

Mr. R. B. BROWN called up the ordinance and moved its passage.

Mr. GALVIN called for the yeas and nays.

Mr. McCANDLESS offered an amendment provided that the city of Pittsburgh be not liable for any of the cost thereof.

Mr. RAFFERTY moved to amend by providing that no wooden pavement be laid.

Mr. R. B. BROWN said that not a property owner on the avenue wanted a wooden pavement, and no man could be elected a commissioner unless he was opposed to a wooden pavement.

The Chair said Mr. McCandless' amendment was not in order inasmuch as the city by issuing the bonds for the improvement practically made herself responsible.

Mr. RAFFERTY moved to amend that the City Solicitor get a bond from the parties who desired the improvement, with security that the city would not be mulcted in any of the cost.

Mr. R. B. BROWN said this was the first time that the South Side had asked for an improvement of any note. Out of the forty five Councilmen from the South Side, he thought there would not be five votes against the ordinance. He thought their demands should be acceded to. He thought it was rather a dangerous precedent to have a bond of indemnity filed. That was not asked for any of the other avenues.

Mr. LITTELL thought it was going a little too far to first get the parties to give their property, and then when that wouldn't pay for the improvement to ask the property owners to go further, and give bond to pay the balance.

After considerable discussion the indemnity amendment was voted down and the ordinance was passed finally, the action of C. C. being thus concurred in.

Mr. DURLING called up the ordinance for the improvement of Grandview avenue, South Side, which in Common Council had been passed finally after it had been referred to a committee for investigation, the committee having reported in favor of the ordinance.

The motion of Mr. Durling to pass the ordinance finally was carried.

The following ordinances passed in Common Councils were passed finally by S. C.:

Ordinance for improvement of Boston, Mohawk, Soho, Miller, Beelen, Gazzam, street, and South curb of Caldwell street.

The ordinance granting the Peoples' Passenger Railway the right to lay tracks over certain streets was laid over and ordered to be printed.

A motion was made to adjourn.

THE BRIDGE ORDINANCE.

Mr. HAYS moved to take up the bridge ordinance.

Several voices, "Move we adjourn."

The Chair put the motion to adjourn, which was carried.

Mr. NEGLEY, petition to repair Roup street at Ellsworth avenue. Referred to Road Committee. The attention of the Committee is also called to Amberson avenue, which is in the same condition, and the fact that Roup street and Amberson avenue have been graded and paid for by the property holders under city authority, and afterward the city makes a different grade for Ellsworth avenue, thus leaving these two cross streets not only greatly out of order but dangerous.

Mr. FINLEY, petition for gas lamp. Referred.

Dr. RAHAUSER, petition for opening, grading, &c., of Larkins alley, South Side. Received and filed and ordinance for same passed finally.

Ordinance locating Boundary street extension. Passed finally.

Ordinance for twenty inch sewer on Franklin street from Fulton to Elm streets. Referred back to Street Committee with the remonstrance.

Ordinance for eighteen inch pipe sewer on Edwards alley, South Side. Referred back to Street Committee with the remonstrance.

Ordinance authorizing the Peoples Passenger Railway to lay down tracks on certain streets. As above noted a remonstrance was presented against this company laying its tracks on Liberty street. The President read the ordinance and Mr. Follansbee moved that the ordinance with the remonstrance be referred back to the Street Committee.

Mr. FULTON offered an amendment to strike out the words "corner of Fifth avenue and Liberty street" in the first section, and insert the words "corner of Eleventh and Liberty streets."

Mr. FOLLANSBEE withdrew his motion and the amendment was passed.

Mr. FINLEY advised no hasty action in so important a matter. He thought the city had been too free in granting valuable franchises, and as this was a very important one he thought it should bring in some revenue to the city.

Mr. HAYS desired to amend the fifth section requiring the company to keep such streets as it occupies not only in perpetual repair from curb to curb but perpetually clean. He thought there should be no discrimination made in regard to companies; that if one was not required to keep the streets clean none of them should be. He would vote against any favoritism in the matter and if the People's railway was not required to clean the streets he would vote for extending the same privilege to other companies.

Mr. NEGLEY (Mr. McConway in the chair) agreed with the gentleman from the Twenty-ninth ward. If it was good for one company to keep the streets clean it was good for all.

The amendment offered by Mr. Hays was adopted, and the section as amended was also adopted. The ordinance was then adopted as amended.

A quantity of business from Select Council was taken up and all concurred in except as noted below.

Ordinance repealing an ordinance for sewer on Seventh and Webster avenues. Referred to Street Committee.

Viewers report on the opening of Smallman street. Referred to Street Committee.

Ordinance granting Robert Mawhinney the right to grade Blacks alley. Referred to a committee consisting of Jones, Everson, Bindley, Fulton and Semple.

Mr. FINLEY, resolution directing the Ordinance Committee to report on ordinance fixing the time within which persons having occasion to make water and gas attachments are required to complete the same, and direct that all openings made in our improvements shall be replaced in as nearly perfect a manner as possible, and report the same to Council at an early day. Passed.

Petition for opening of Boundary street from Negley to Highland avenue, Nineteenth ward. Referred to Street Committee.

On motion adjourned.

Leech vs. Robinson. Judgment affirmed. Opinion by Agnew J. Sharswood, J., dissents. The question in this case was as to whether John D. Robinson had a fee simple, under his father's will, in one-seventh of his estate. Leech bought a piece of property from John D. and afterwards refused to pay for it inasmuch as he thought Robinson could not make out a good title. Robinson took the matter before the District Court of this county, and the Court with a full bench, decided that Robinson had a fee simple in the property. Leech appealed to the Supreme Court, whose decision now, as stated, is in affirmation of the action of the Court below. Justice Agnew in his opinion says "This is a difficult will to interpret. Its management is unskilful and its expression obtuse, and the word heirs used in different senses, oftener referring to children than to a line of descent. * * * * § * In conclusion he says: "From the whole of the will and the codicils, we gather the intent of the testator to give his entire estate to his first wife for life, and then to his children in equal shares absolutely in fee but to limit and restrict the use and enjoyment of his living children to the income until partition, and to make the concurrence of the executors necessary to determine when it would be prudent to make the partition. This control of the executors is clearly expressed in the fourth codicil and is the substitute for the provision in the tenth section that partition should not be made until Alexander's youngest child came of age." Judgment affirmed.

ARGUMENT.

Appeal of Frank Cowan for himself and wife from the decree of the Orphans' Court of Westmoreland county, in the matter of the guardianship account of Matthew Jack, guardian of Harriet Jack, now intermarried with Frank Cowan. Argued by Ex United States Senator Edgar Cowan for exceptant, and Hon. Henry D. Foster and H. P. Laird contra. Mrs. Harriet Cowan was a daughter of Hon. William Jack, who having made his last will and testiment, died on February 25, 1852, leaving a widow and six children; William, Matthew, Margaret, Elizabeth, Emily, Harriet, and an after born child, Nancy. The widow and Jos. H. Kuhns, Esq., were executrix and executor of the will, who intermarried with each other on December 27, 1852. Mrs. Harriet Cowan died on March 8, 1873, leaving two children, one of whom has since died, leaving to survive her Lucy Cowan, aged nearly three years. Her husband, Frank Cowan, is now her administrator. Judge Jack in his last will devised to his widow (now Mrs. Kuhns) certain real estate during her widowhood. Among the tracts to be devised to her was one called the "Best Farm," the remainder of which he devised to his son Matthew by a codicil to his will. Matthew became of age on October 29, 1859. On the 20th of November, 1861, upon the petition of Wm. Jack, the eldest son, the Orphan's Court awarded an inquest to make partition to real estate of Wm. Jack, deceased, and at the same time Matthew Jack, guardian ad litem for his five minor sisters, among whom was Mrs. Cowan. Inquisition was made, and the inquest finding the lands could not be parted, appraised the same and this was confirmed February 20, 1862.

The administrator of Mrs. Cowan claims that by the will of Judge Jack, the estate in the "Best Farm" was limited to her widowhood; that the estate in the same given to Matthew Jack was only to commence at her death, and that the law in such case casts the estate upon the heirs at law, thus entitling Mrs. Cowan to one-seventh of it during the life of her mother; that Matthew having gone into possession of the farm and having received the rents and proceeds thereof, is bound to account to her for one seventh of the same. The proceedings in partition gave no title to Matthew Jack as against his minor sisters, who were his wards; and any decree investing him with the same nominally would only constitute him their trustee, and he must account accordingly. The Bushfield property was an express trust for the six oldest children, and it is claimed the guardian was obliged to dispose of it, so far as his words were concerned, the same as though there had been no partition at all. This, it is claimed, he did not do. Miss Nancy Jack being an after born child, is provided for under the intestate law, and not entitled to a share in the residue of the estate; and Mrs. Cowan is claimed to be entitled to one-sixth of the proceeds of this property. The Guardian is claimed by the exceptant to have been guilty of gross negligence, in not carrying out his trust in regard to what is known as the Bunker Hill property, and Mrs. Cowan was damaged by it in at least $1,000; at all events he allowed her to be deprived of one-seventh of it by giving it to Nancy. He was equally negligent in not taking counsel and ascertaining the rights of his ward, by reason of which she lost one-seventh of her whole estate in making a provision for her sister Nancy Jack, who was provided for in the will.

District Court.

[Before Judge Hampton.]

In the case of James P. Horbach vs. Mrs. Jane Adams, being a case in ejectment for two lots of ground in Wilkinsburg a verdict was given for the plaintiff in 6¼ cents damages and cost of suit.

The next case taken up and which is still on trial, was that of Hampe vs. Sarg, an action for slander. The parties live on Mount Washington, and it is alleged that the defendant called the plaintiff a thief. The defense plead justification, and propose to prove that the plaintiff is a thief.

On motion of S. A. McClung, Esq., the Hon. William McClelland, late of Lawrence county, Pa., was admitted to practice in this court.

"BLAIR'S."

The Home of Confectionery—The Cities Again Supplied with First-Class Establishments—A Pittsburgh and an Allegheny House—The Specialities at Each—Something Concerning the Enterprise of Mr. Kinder Blair.

They say a "Poet's born, not made." Whether there be any truth in the adage its general principle will be found good—if not always in the flowery domain of poesy, invariably so in the more prosaic realms of business. This is the real explanation of the success of some where others fail.

Just now an illustration of this fact is furnished in the opening of that new establishment by Mr. Kinder Blair at No. 68 Federal street, Allegheny. It is a fact that cannot be gainsayed, that since this gentleman gave up the control of a mammoth confectionery establishment in Allegheny, several years ago, others that followed in his wake have not been as successful and the city was without a first class house of the kind, complete in all its appointments, until he yielded to the solicitation of his friends, and a few days ago, re-embarked in the business for which he seems pre-eminently qualified.

THE NEW ALLEGHENY HOUSE.

The new establishment is one which could not be unnoticed by any pedestrian passing up or down Federal street. It is located in Smith's handsome new block, nearly opposite the depots, and exteriorly presents an appearance that at once arrests general attention. And interiorly there is no lack, everything being fitted up in the finest style—fine cabinet cases, silver plated show cases, mirrors, marble top tables, rich Brussels carpets, sideboard of an entire new pattern, and all at night brilliantly illuminated by some of the prettiest chandeliers to be seen anywhere. The fitting up is so handsome that in passing a word is due to the artizans and merchants through whose efforts the apartments have been made so attractive. The credit belongs for the carpenter work to J. B. Ingham & Son.; Marble work, Beggs & Lindsay; Marbelized work, L. H. Smith & Co.; Carpets, Dunlap & Snaman; Chairs, John Bernhardt; Iron table frames, Berlin Foundry; Mirrors, J. J. Gillespie; Show cases, F. Pollard; Gas fixtures, Tate, Munden & Tate. Though the contributions of these gentlemen guided by the good taste of the one for whom the place was fitted up, there has been arranged a headquarters for the business that is in every way beautiful and complete.

A MODEL BAKEHOUSE.

In thus commencing the business, Mr. Blair availed himself of all the knowledge of the latest improvements, and with this end in view not only fitted up the apartments for his patrons in such fine style, but has paid particular attention to the actual working department—the baking house from which emanate the innumerable varieties of cakes, pastry, &c., which are irresistible to the most satiated epicure. This department is located in the basement, and is well lighted, well ventilated, and as clean as the dining room of the most fastidious housekeeper. It is here that all the baking for both the Allegheny and Pittsburgh houses is done, the ovens being constantly at a heat, and everything being thus kept fresh as it is palatable.

READY FOR BUSINESS.

Having thus surrounded himself with all the appliances for conducting the business in a proper way Mr. Blair calls the attention of his former hosts of patrons to the place, and pledges himself to spare no efforts to meet their every requirement in his line.

At the Allegheny House, he proposes to make a specialty of the baking, and has made arrangements accordingly not only to supply his two stores, but to furnish to families all they need,—fresh from his ovens, and at cheaper prices—considering the trouble, then they can supply themselves any other way. His products in this direction will consist in part of Rolls, Biscuit, Crackers, Pastry and Cakes of every description, large or small. Then, in addition, he will also have the accompaniments such as chocolates of all kinds, every variety of canned goods, canned fish and meats, dried fruits, fresh fruits, jellies, ketchups, sauces, &c., through a list too long to mention here, and every article of which will be guaranteed.

At this house, too, in season, will be furnished ice creams, oysters, and luncheon at any hour, and any day, except Sunday. Fruit of every description, both foreign and domestic, will be here, and a list of the very purest confections, in inconceivable variety, together with nuts, spices, pickles, figs, lozenges and every article in that line, which can be imagined. These are the particular specialties of the Allegheny house, which already, though opened but for a few days, has become a place of general resort for housekeepers and for others who wish to procure goods in the Bakery or Confectionery line.

THE CONFECTIONERY DEPARTMENT.

In order to give greater room for the bakery at the Allegheny house, Mr. Blair joined the department for the manufacture of confectionery to the lunch and general confection rooms No. 62 Fifth avenue, this city. Here skilled workmen are constantly employed in the manufacture of all kinds of confectionery, from the plainest candy to the finest French bon bons; nothing but the best material is used, and nothing but a good article—one that carries with it the personal guarantee of the proprietor—is sent out. All the confectionery for both houses is manufactured here, and nothing is sold at either house, in the line of bakery or confectionery that is not made under the proprietor's general supervision, by which means he is enabled to guarantee everything pure.

In connection with the Fifth avenue house, there is where lunch is daily served, and which, as Mr. Blair manages it, is something different from anything ever known in the city. This is destined to be a special feature of his business, and is already the recipient of a patronage that assures its success. There are no oysters served at this place, the lunch taking the place of that specialty, but all other eatables and sweetmeats are supplied, either for immediate use or to be taken away.

Having thus all the facilities at his command and his houses systematically arranged, Mr. Blair is ready for the visits of his friends, who will find that he still exhibits the same aptitude for the business that in other years made "Blair's" one of the leading establishments of the kind in the west, and which will make his two new houses in the future, if we are not mistaken, even more widely and favorably known.

AMUSEMENTS.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Last evening the great success of last season, "Davy Crockett," was re-produced at this house with Mr. Mayo in the title role and Miss Rosa Rand as "Eleanor Vaughn." The play is eminently a beautiful one, abounding in elegant language, and withal so simple and pleasing, and pure in tone, that one, no matter how stoical he may be, cannot help but be interested in its feeling and simple plot. The play is American and is the production of Frank Murdock, who died about a year ago in Philadelphia. The play in a manner treats of border life—the love life of "Davy Crockett." It may be termed the "Ingomar and Parthenia" of the present age. The play from the commencement interests the auditor and as it works on through its feeling and simple plot the lookers on is carried on with it, and when it is done he is better for having seen the drama. Mr. Mayo as "Davy Crocket" is natural, and enacts the part almost to perfection. He gives us the great sturdy backwoodsman, with a heart as tender as a child, and who would risk all to save his fellowman. His hardships and tribulations all tend to make him a better man; and especially in his power of acting shown in the scene, when he makes a bolt of his arm for the door of the cabin to keep out the wolves and save the life of "Eleanor." Mr. Mayo last evening was rapturously received by the large audience present, and every good point was greeted with applause. Miss Rosa Rand as "Eleanor" was excellent. She is a lady of decided talent and her elocution is good. She was also well received last evening. The support given to Mr. Mayo was really good, and the scenery and stage dressing decidedly elegant and appropriate. It would be hard indeed for any theatre in the country to improve upon the mounting of the play, and the fact reflects credit upon the enterprise of the management. We can advise our friends to take a look at "Davy Crocket" as being one of the best American dramas ever written and performed here. "Davy Crocket" will be repeated this evening.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Last evening this house was jammed to its full capacity by a decidedly male audience to witness the first performance of the "Magic Talisman." The spectacle is of the "Black Crook" style and abounds in scenery of a gaudy nature and plenty of ballet. It is grander than anything of the kind ever produced here, and as it was received last evening, it may be termed a success. The same play this evening.

LIBRARY HALL.—Last evening a series of tableaux were produced here for the benefit of Plymouth Church, Allegheny. There were some very pretty scenes represented and they passed off very effectively. Another like entertainment this evening.

HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.—This lady will give a reading from her own works at Library Hall on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Literary Bureau. Tickets for reserved seats on sale at Kieber's music store, No. 122 Wood street.

WASHINGTON HALL—EAST END.—This evening Miss Swayze, a lady who is highly spoken of by the press of the East, will open the Andrews Association Lecture course with a lecture on "Hatred and Haters." The lady is said to be very eloquent, and as an orator bears a high reputation. The lecture will be preceded by a brass band concert.

THE FIRST LECTURE.—The Library Lecture Course for the season will be opened Thursday night by the Rev. Newman Hall, whose subject is "The Dignity of Labor." There are a few reserved seats unsold which should be called for early by persons who wish to take advantage of this feature.

THE BOND OF FRIENDSHIP.

A Talk with the Hon. Edgar Cowan, who Drew up that Paper Giving Mr. Clark that $75,000 Token.

The speech of Mr. Robert Woods in the bond of friendship case boldly charged that the paper was not prepared, as Mr. Clark had said, by the Hon. Edgar Cowan, of Greensburg. He said that Mr. Cowan never wrote the paper, and that it was for this reason that he was not called as a witness in the case.

The writer went to Greensburg last evening and had a conversation with Mr. Cowan upon the subject at his house. The time of the conversation was just after tea. Mr. Cowan was seated before a cheerful, open fire smoking a peace-preservative cigar, and was in just the mood for a few mild interrogatives.

The speech of Mr. Woods was handed to Mr. Cowan, and the special parts of it relating to him were read with interest. Then he said, contemptuously, "Oh! Woods don't know what he is talking about. This remark of his is only cheap buncombe. Don't you see what a fool Clark would be to say that I wrote this when I did not? Why just the minute he made that statement, and it had been proved to the contrary, he would have lost his entire case. Why, if the contestant had for a moment imagined that I had not written it, they would not have lost a moment's time before I would have been summoned as a witness."

"How is it that you have not been called as a witness if you drew the paper?"

"Why I know nothing about the case except what Clark has told me, and that is not evidence."

Here Frank Cowan, who was present, said, "Father, you do not mention that you were Mr. Clark's attorney for the last twenty years. This would explain his coming to you."

"Why, then, Mr. Cowan," said the writer, "if you are Mr. Clark's attorney, are you not conducting this case?"

"Oh, I am getting to old and lazy to be running in and out of Pittsburgh every day."

"Will you please relate what you know concerning the drawing up of the paper?"

"Mr. Clark has been my client for many years. Some time previous to Mr. McCully's death, Clark came to me and told me that McCully wanted to do him a favor by leaving him a sum of money after his death."

"Did McCully expect death at this time?"

"No, not particularly; but he was an old man. Well, Clark consulted me as to the form of paper required to secure the money to him, and I drew up the form you have seen. Clark wanted it in the shape of a bond, but I told him that under the circumstances that was impossible, that it must be in the shape of a testamentory paper."

"Why did not McCully make a will and put in this bequest to Clark as one of its items?"

"McCully did not want to make a will. There were none of his relatives that he cared for particularly, and he was willing that the property should be divided under the law."

"Did you give Clark any advice about the signing of the paper prepared by you—whether it would have been better to have had witnesses or not?"

"I do not remember whether I did or not. I did not think there ever would have been any difficulty in proving the signature of so well known a man as McCully, any more than there would have been in proving mine here in Greensburg."

"Do you think there is any doubt about Clark's getting his bequest?"

"No; I do not see any difficulty about it. As the case involves a question of fact, of course it is entitled to a trial by jury. Once settled by a jury the case is settled beyond appeal, unless sufficient grounds could be found through exceptional evidence or the directions of the court to the jury for a new trial."

"Do you think you will be called on as a witness?"

"I do not know. I had expected for some time the contestants would have summoned me. My evidence or drawing up the paper, and yet knowing nothing of its signing, would surely be better for the contestants than for Clark."

"What object could Woods have had in saying that you did not write that paper?"

The answer to this interrogation was sufficiently emphatic, and to set all doubts at rest as to Mr. Cowan's views of Mr. Woods' ability, but out of regard for Mr. Woods it will not be given verbatim. One may be allowed to infer, however, that Mr. Cowan does not think Mr. Woods very Websterian in his management of the case.—Evening Leader.

THE WEATHER.

"G. A.'s" Indications and Record.

The following is a copy of "indications" on the 27th of September: From the 21st of September to the 21st of October fourteen cloudy and variable days; of which seven to nine may be of rain, fifteen clear and fair. A pleasant and dry month, moderate cool atmosphere, with little hopes of a river for practical use, and encouraging for the ripening of the products of the earth.

RECORD.

From September 21 to October 21.—Fourteen cloudy, variable days, ten with more or less rain; fifteen of sunshine or fair; one, thunder; eight white frost. Daily average of the thermometer 56½; same day in 1872, 57; maximum in 1873, on the 14th, 66 degrees; minimum on the 20th, 34. In 1872; maximum 72, minimum 40; average river 21 inches. Rain fell 3⅓ feet; and 2.75-100 inches fell from the 18 to 22d inst. The indications to the 21st inst. have been fully verified. The river was the highest on the morning of the 21st inst, being 3½ feet. On the 14th and 15th inst. the barometer suddenly rose to the highest it had since 1866; when it is always succeeded by a severe or long storm, of rain, snow, hail or squall winds, within five to six days after; such we had 18th to 20th inst. The indications are not so clear as the last month, but may be more rain and wind.

INDICATIONS.—From the 21st of October to the 19th of November, seventeen cloudy and variable days, nine of which, rain and much white frost, morning, and Indian summer weather; rather a pleasant month with a higher river than October.

ADDITIONAL MARKETS.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, October 27.—Business was retarded to-day by stormy and unfavorable weather. The market for cotton goods has shown symptoms of weakness, and several prominent makes of brown and bleached cottons, wide sheetings, denims, ticks, stripes and corset jeans have been reduced in prices by both agents and jobbers. A large jobbing house is driving garner prints at 9c and Amoskeag fancies at 8c by the case; also Sprague's shirtings at 9c, less than 2½ per cent. Wool and cotton flannels are in fair request.

Petroleum.

TITUSVILLE, October 27.—The market is quiet and firm; Titusville $1.37; Oil City $1.35.

"A DOSE IN TIME," &c.

If "a stitch in time saves nine," it is equally certain that a dose of a healthy tonic like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters taken at this inclement season of the year may save many an unpleasant twinge; a dose, however, is not sufficient. The system should be thoroughly charged with this genial vegetable stimulant and invigorant. Commence taking it with the commencement of the atmospheric changes which distinguish the winter from the autumn. Thereby you will avoid these disturbances of the digestive and secretive organs, and those painful diseases of the muscles and the nerves of sensation, which often render the period of the year which should be the merriest, a season of penance and disquietude. The extraordinary vigor and regularity which this exhilarating restorative imparts to the most important functions of the body, render it an invaluable remedy for nervous debility, constipation, indigestion, torpidity of the liver, and intermittent fever.

THE POINT BRIDGE.

The General Interest in the Project—The Attendance in the Council Lobby Yesterday—The Ordinance Not Reached.

Whatever may be the merits of the question, there is no doubt that the project for the erection of a bridge across the Monongahela from the "Point" is attracting very general attention throughout the city. The general anticipation was that the ordinance, which has passed Common Council, would come up for consideration in the Select branch yesterday afternoon, and there was a very large crowd of spectators in the lobby during the entire session. At one time when in the routine of business—that which is unfinished was being approached all the available space in the lobby was taken up and the crowd encroached somewhat within the railings. It was noticable that the principal part of the gathering consisted of Southsiders, who watched the proceedings somewhat impatiently, the anxiety apparently being to have the Bridge ordinance considered. It was not reached, however, as will be seen by the record of the proceedings elsewhere, owing to the pressure of other business which consumed the time of Councils until the usual hour for adjournment.
